SUCCESS!

There are no "lits" in the House of Success,
But the stars are long and deep,
And the man who would climb
To the top, in his time,
Before he dare walk, must creep.

Of carpets, there's none in the House of Success,
But the floors are hard and bare,
And you're likely to trip
And slide and slip,
In the pitfalls here and there.

There are no lounges or easy chairs,
Nor places to rest your spine,
But after you've won
To the top—there's the sun.
And, ah! but the view it is fine.
—The Optimist.

PEACE AIMS

Of Reichstag Out—New Chancellor to Be Confronted by Demand That War Be Ended on Basis of Negotiation and No Annexations.

Washington, July 18—Peace by negotiation and perpetual reconciliation among nations is the German Reichstag program, according to reports to the State Department today.

An outline of the program of the Reichstag, mainly center Progressive and Social Democrats, is reported to be:

"On August 4, 1914, the following words were spoken from the throne: 'We are impelled by no thoughts of conquest.'"

"On this platform the German people stand today. Germany has taken up arms only in the defense of her liberty and independence and for the protection of her territory.

Against Annexations
"The Reichstag aspires to peace by negotiations and perpetual reconciliation among nations. With such a peace as this, annexation and all political, industrial and financial measures undertaken by violence are incompatible.

"The Reichstag disapproves all plans which lead to isolation and enmity among the peoples after the war. 'The freedom of the seas must be secured. Only an industrial peace will pave the way for a friendly intercourse among nations.

Will Fight to End

"So long as the enemy governments refuse peace on this basis just so long will the German people stand together as one man, fighting until her own and her allies' right to live and develop shall be assured.

"In its unity the German people stand unconquerable. The Reichstag feels itself to be one with the men in battle who have heroically guarded the front."

This program will be laid before the Reichstag, Chancellor Michaelis must address himself to it soon.

ANDERSON DIES

L. & N. Division Superintendent Succumbs to Wounds Inflicted Sunday—Burial Thursday.

Paris, Ky., July 18—As a result of wounds, self-inflicted Sunday morning, W. H. Anderson, 68 years old, superintendent of the Kentucky Central division of the L. & N. railroad, with headquarters here, died this morning, at 3:20 o'clock at the Massie Memorial hospital. Mr. Anderson was one of the best known railroad officials in Kentucky and a popular and highly esteemed official, whose tragic death is deeply deplored.

He was a native of Parkersburg, W. Va., and came to Paris about thirty years ago as telegraph operator for the L. & N. By his ability and efficiency he rose to the important position of superintendent of the division, which position he had filled for the last ten years with signal success.

Besides his wife, Mrs. Lucy Alexander Anderson, who is a great niece of Jefferson Davis, he is survived by his mother, Mrs. George Anderson, of Parkersburg; three sisters, Mrs. Lackey, and Miss Ivy Anderson, also of Parkersburg; Mrs. Clineck, of Fremont, Ohio, and two brothers, Edward and James Anderson, also of Parkersburg. The body will lie in state at the Baptist church here until the funeral Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, which will be conducted by Rev. D. R. Mangum, pastor of that congregation. In interment will be in the Paris cemetery. The active pallbearers will be railroad officials and the honorary pallbearers officials and stockholders of the Agricultural Bank of this city.

Was Well-Known Here

Mr. Anderson was well-known in Maysville, where he frequently visited officially, and the news of his death was received with expressions of genuine sorrow by railroad officials and others here with whom he was very popular. Some time ago he suffered a nervous breakdown and since then his health has not been good, which prompted his attempt at self-destruction.

The old baggage shed at the C. & O. passenger station was torn down yesterday and the work of tearing down the western portion of the old passenger depot was also begun. The work of excavating for the changing of the tracks is progressing rapidly and the dirt removed is being used to fill up Lower street.

A first grade or clerical competitive Civil Service examination will be held at the local postoffice on August 4 for the purpose of filling a large number of vacancies in the Internal Revenue and other departments. Application blanks may be had at the postoffice.

Drs. Sharp and Bots of the Mason County Sanitary Survey corps gave an illustrated lecture in the First Presbyterian Church at Washington last night. A large number attended.

DRAFT LOTTERY

Will Likely Be On Next Friday—Preparations Towards Making the Drawing on That Date Going Ahead Rapidly.

Washington, July 19—Picking America's first big army will be staged within 18 hours. Either the great reception room of Secretary Baker's office or one of the chambers of Congress will be the scene.

Everything is ready. The little capsules with the numbers are stored in the War Department, while regulations governing the drawings are in the government printer's hands. These rules will be announced before the drawing.

Mystery Surrounds Lottery
An air of mystery has been thrown about the lottery. Officials refuse to say just how they will pull the numbers.

One authority said that this might occur within two hours after the last governor declared the numbers were in, irrespective of the time of day.

The House and Senate Military Committees have chosen official witnesses, and Secretary Baker may draw the first capsule. Chief of Staff Bliss and others will confer today on final details.

In general the order in which the master numbers are drawn here will indicate the order of liability for service, though, owing to varying regulations in different districts, the numbers will be divided into some group form.

Summons Comes at Once

Almost immediately after the lottery local Exemption Boards will summon men for physical tests. Every man summoned must take this test, whether or not he intends to make an exemption claim. Heavy penalties attach to failure to appear.

Federal authorities have not overlooked possibility of draft trouble in his cities, and are prepared to deal with any outbreaks.

Kentucky Is Complete Now

Washington, July 18—Kentucky was added late today to the list of States from which complete reports have been received.

Irethitt and Lee counties exceed their quota and will have no draft. Franklin drafts only four.

PRODUCTION AND REVENUE

The experience of the United States in the world war is not likely to be any different from that of any of our allies. We have, however, some advantages over them in the opening days of our helligerency in that we begin war with our industries well organized, fairly well speeded up, and production proceeding upon empirical knowledge gained at the expense of the European nations to whom we have been supplying war material. Our own participation in the war demands, in the first instance and as a continuity, not only the maintenance of our industrial organizations, but the increase of our productive activity.

In other words, we must now not only continue to supply our allies with war material which they are pledged to purchase from us to the extent, at least, of the sum of our loans to them, which sum already runs to over a billion dollars, but we must also supply ourselves with the war equipment which three years of pacific lethargy on the part of the administration has prevented us from accumulating.

To pay for this vast supply of material for ourselves and to provide the money for the constant financial assistance which our allies will need, means that federal revenues must be continually augmented. Can production and revenue be made to march together?

Surely—if incentives are offered to all producers, both large and small, to keep their production energies at the peak of activity.

But surely not—if a dead line of prices or of profits is to be established, and especially if the government, by communading, is to enter itself upon the intricate field of manufacturing under the direction of clerks selected either by the civil service methods or because of their political activities. The first course would destroy all incentive to increased production, stifle all attempt at mechanical or inventive development, and lead to unexampled depreciation in factory values; while the other alternative would be productive of unheard-of expense, would result in a lessened output, and would be deadly in all its aspects.

Neither of these alternatives, however, can be applied to the conduct of American business except through the enactment of laws by Congress. On the other hand, the first and most desirable result may be had without legislative action and through the operation of the law of supply and demand. In a free market, wherein our government, those of our allies, and all private purchasers are seeking supplies, there will be constant pressure upon every producer to maintain the curve of his factory activity at the peak; and competition will restrict prices within limits compatible with the extraordinary conditions which the near future will impose upon American business. Under these circumstances, also, every American plant, at the close of the war, will be in the pink of condition and ready to cope with the expanding foreign trade which will at once be offered to us by reason of the reconstruction of Europe.

Under this plan American producers will make money, heaps of it. Here is the only point where legislation can helpfully enter the situation. The profits must be shared with the government through a graduated tax upon earnings which will not depress or destroy any industry and which will make sure that every operator opens his pocket wide to the federal tax-gatherer. In this way we may find both production and revenue—without which no modern war can be carried on.

A WRONG ASSUMPTION

Secretary of War Baker evidently entertains some doubt as to the ability of American soldiers to keep their ammunition out of the hands of the Germans. Some time ago the Senate asked the Secretary whether American ammunition is interchangeable with French and British ammunition, and whether there would be any advantage in such interchangeability. In his reply, printed in the Congressional Record of June 29, Mr. Baker explains that British and French cartridges cannot be used in American rifles and machine guns, and later says:

"In case of an enemy, this lack of interchangeability of ammunition may be of material advantage, but in case of an ally, it is a decided disadvantage."

The assertion that lack of interchangeability may be a material advantage in case of an enemy can be based upon no other theory than the enemy is likely to capture our ammunition and use it in their guns. Quite likely there will be some capturing of ammunition on both sides before the war is over, but we have great confidence that we shall capture ten German cartridges where they capture one American. We shall be at the disadvantage, then, of not being able to use the cartridges in our rifles and machine guns. Down on the Mexican border we have had Americans killed by ammunition made in America but used by Mexicans. We don't expect to repeat the experience in Europe. If lack of interchangeability is to be an advantage, then the outlook is poor for a victory in our war with Germany.

"A SPLENDID TONIC"

Says Hixson Lady Who, On Doctor's Advice, Took Cardui And Is Now Well.

Hixson, Tenn.—"About 10 years ago I was..." says Mrs. J. B. Gadd, of this place. "I suffered with a pain in my left side, could not sleep at night with this pain, always in the left side..."

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still there.

I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a run-down condition, so I decided to try some more Cardui, which I did.

This last Cardui which I took made me much better. In fact, cured me. It has been a number of years, still I have no return of this trouble.

I feel it was Cardui that cured me, and I recommend it as a splendid female tonic."

Don't allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. It should surely help you, as it has so many thousands of other women in the past 40 years. Headache, backache, sideache, nervousness, sleeplessness, tired-out feeling, are all signs of womanly trouble. Other women get relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? All druggists.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy.

Catarhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound and imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

PROHIBITION CONTEST IN PORTO RICO IS CLOSE

San Juan, Porto Rico, July 16—In the general election held today the referendum on prohibition overshadowed in interest the election of a resident commissioner to the United States and the choice of members of both houses of the insular legislature.

The indications from the early returns on the referendum tonight were that the race between the prohibitionists and the anti-prohibitionists would be close. Five districts in San Juan at 9 o'clock tonight gave 570 votes for prohibition and 527 against. The first complete report from any municipality gave a majority of more than 1,000 for prohibition.

The Fleming Gazette says: "This morning the following party of army recruits left for Maysville, two to enlist and the other five to report for duty: Overt Gray, Johnnie Politt, Branch Dearing, Robert Baker, R. B. Huff, Lee Perkins and Ben Allen."

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy.

Catarhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound and imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

WINTER OATS FOR FALL SEEDING IN SOUTH

Washington, D. C., July 18 — The Committee on Seed Stocks of the United States Department of Agriculture has compiled a list of county agents in the South in whose counties there is a surplus of oats suitable for fall seeding. This list is divided into three sections:

1. Counties where the agents actually report surpluses.
2. Counties from which no reports have been received, but which are believed to have stocks in excess of local needs.
3. Counties in Texas where there are considerable surpluses of Red Rustproof oats from spring seedling.

These Texas Rustproof oats are not generally recommended for fall seeding in the South, but may be used in Louisiana, Florida, and southern Mississippi, Alabama, and Georgia if stocks grown from fall seedling are not available. The list will be supplied on request.

WOULD CONNECT CHICAGO WITH NEW YORK

The Type Used in One Year to Publish Endorsements of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Of the many kidney remedies on the market today, none other is recommended like Doan's Kidney Pills. Forty thousand benefited people gladly testify in the newspapers of their own towns. Forty-five hundred American newspapers publish this home proof of Doan's merit. The type used in one year to tell this wonderful story would make a solid column of metal twice as high as the world's highest mountain. Placed end to end the lines of type would reach from New York to Chicago. These miles of good words told by 40,000 tongues sound glad tidings to any Maysville sufferer who wants relief from kidney and bladder ills. Here's a Maysville case. Don't experiment. Use the remedy endorsed by people you know.

John J. Bramel, bookkeeper, Walnut street, Maysville, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been of great benefit to me and in fact, I attribute fourteen years of my life to them. It was in 1902 that I was suffering a great deal. After long use of Doan's Kidney Pills, I became well and had no bad effects for many years. Recently, however, I noticed my kidneys were not acting right and my system was generally weak. I knew it was a return of the trouble and I didn't lose any time in getting a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Chanslor's Drug Store. They again gave me the same good results and I consider them a wonderful medicine."

Mr. Bramel is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mr. Bramel had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 60c all stores. WASHINGTON LETTER

By Our Special Correspondent

Would Reform Congressional Record

The recent insertion in the Congressional Record by a Member from California of 483 telegrams, all printed in large type, was the "straw which broke the camel's back" with Republican Representative Joseph Walsh of Massachusetts. Mr. Walsh has made a careful compilation of the "extensions of remarks" which have been included in the Record during the present session, that is, matter printed in the Record which has not been heard on the floor of the House. He finds that 29 poems, 54 editorials, 70 articles and 26 speeches by outsiders, besides hundreds of letters and telegrams from constituents yearning to inform their Congressman how to run the Government have been thus embalmed in the public records. The abuse has grown to such proportions that Mr. Walsh has given formal notice to the House that he will hereafter object whenever request is made for such extensions. By so doing he will save the Government thousands of dollars, and confine the Congressional Record to what it purports to be, a report of the proceedings of Congress.

Treat All Alike

Senator Frank B. Brandegee of Connecticut has succeeded in having cotton included in the list of products which have been added to the food bill and included under the restrictions on price and production contained in that measure. In presenting the amendment the Senator called attention to the fact that there would probably be a short crop of cotton this year, and as no article was more universally used in war, both in the manufacture of explosives, and in tents, uniforms, etc., there was every reason why its production and price should be carefully regulated. Of course the Southern Democrats voted against the amendment, supported by two or three northern members of that party, who are ever ready to assist their southern brethren in coddling the products of that section of the country at the expense of the North.

Law Aimed at Food Pirates

Congressman Benjamin K. Focht of Pennsylvania considers that it is quite useless to talk about conserving the food that we now have on hand, as all our reserve supply has been shipped abroad, but we should bend our energies to saving the supply that will soon be harvested, and fixing reasonable prices for it. Mr. Focht does not believe that the food bill will adversely affect the farmer, but holds that if it is efficiently administered it will begin and end with the speculator and the man who hoards. "It is the pirate who fixes the prices" that the bill is aimed at, and the Congressman hopes that the President and Mr. Hoover will direct their efforts against that class of men, but if they try to regulate the farmer Mr. Focht sees nothing but trouble ahead.

To Protect Migratory Birds

The bill pending in the Senate which seeks to give effect to the existing treaty between Great Britain and this country for the protection of migratory birds has the earnest support of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts. Mr. Lodge, who is the leading Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee, holds that it is little short of an act of bad faith to fail to carry out treaties that we have made. "I do not think that this is the time of all others," says he, "when we want to fail to carry out our treaty agreements." The opponents of the bill have resorted to the familiar plan that it is unconstitutional in the powers of visit and search which it undertakes to grant to Federal officers, but Senator Lodge contends that such powers are granted under the same laws of practically every State at the present time.

LEADERS OF "MOVIE" INDUSTRY CONFER WITH OFFICIALS ON WAR PROGRAM FOR FILM WORLD

Masters of the motion-picture industry of the country who form the war cooperation committee, of which William A. Brady is chairman, by appointment of the President spent a busy day in Washington Friday conferring with various officials of the Government on their plans for making the motion-picture film a great agent for the education of the world as to the aims and purposes of America, in the world war.

The members of the committee arrived early in the morning and held their first conference of the day with George Creel, chairman of the Committee on Public Information, with which organization the motion-picture men will work in close cooperation. Mr. Creel made a brief speech of welcome, in which he pointed out to the committee that the motion picture could carry the message of America farther than any printed word, because, as the President said in his letter to Mr. Brady, "it speaks a universal language."

Mr. Brady replied for the National Association of the Motion Picture Industry, of which he is president. He said that motion-picture men are fully alive to the great responsibility and opportunity for service which the war has brought to them and that they could be depended on to the limit of their resources.

List of Those Present

Mr. Brady was accompanied by these members of the executive committee:

Representing producers' branch committee, Adolph Zukor, William L. Sherrill, and Arthur S. Friend. Representing distributors' branch committee, Richard A. Rowland, W. W. Irwin, and P. A. Powers. Representing exhibitors' branch committee, Lee A. Ochs, Louis F. Blumenthal, and L. L. Levine. Representing supply and equipment branch committee, J. E. Brulaker, Walter J. Moore, and J. H. Halberg. Representing general division, William A. Johnston, John Wylie, and Arthur James.

Others who came were Marcus Lacey and Frank H. Elliott.

Following the meeting in Mr. Creel's office, the committee went to the Red Cross Building for a conference with Evan Evans, of the Red Cross, on the work that is to be done by the motion-picture women to aid that organization. At 11 o'clock they met with Herbert Hoover, food administrator, at his office in the Department of the Interior building and held a noon-hour conference with Howard Coffin, of the advisory board of the Council of National Defense.

Guests of H. P. Davidson. The members of the committee were guests of Henry P. Davidson, chairman of the Red Cross war council, at a luncheon at the Metropolitan Club, and the afternoon was taken up with conferences with Raymond Fosdick, in charge of the recreation plans for the great cantonments, Secretary McAdoo, and the Council of National Defense, the day winding up with an exhibition of a new Metro war film, "The Slacker," at the Arlington Hotel.

Chairman Brady announced that the committee had completed the outline of a plan for a great organization, by States, which will bring into close cooperation every factor of the great industry.

The War Cooperation Committee, under the plan worked out by Mr. Creel, will assign to each division of the Government a representative whose duty it will be to discover needs and devise the most effective method by which the motion-picture industry can meet those needs. It is a direct contact that will not only carry the purpose of the United States to all parts of the country, but to every corner of the world.

War Cooperation Committee. The full membership of the War Cooperation Committee includes all the big producers and others prominently connected with the moving picture industry.

About all the consolation some men get out of losing their money on another's game is that they are dead famous sports.

MICHAELIS WILL MAKE MAIDEN SPEECH TODAY

With interest diverted for the moment from the fighting fronts, where there has been a noticeable slackening in hostilities, attention is focused on the convening Thursday afternoon of the German Reichstag.

At the opening session will be heard the first utterance of the new imperial chancellor, Dr. Michaelis, concerning his stand on the war—utterances that naturally will be momentous, inasmuch as they will indicate whether, with the recent changes in the German government, Germany is to continue her warfare without abatement, or whether she desires for peace that have been heard so often in Germany, and especially in the Reichstag, are anything but empty expressions.

RUSSIA IS IN THE THROES OF A BITTER HOME RULE FIGHT

Petrograd, July 18.—Russia is in the throes of a "home rule" fight which today has assumed important second only to the war. It was the direct cause of Russia's cabinet split. Ukraine, Finland and Kronstadt are all seeking home rule—not independence.

The cabinet resignation of cadet members followed revelations that Foreign Minister Tereshchenko and Minister of Communications, Tsarletel had gone to Ukraine and signed an agreement that Ukrainian officials should be responsible only to the Ukrainian congress. The cabinet crisis causes excitement here. All Monday night there were crowds on the streets and there was the greatest display of fire arms since the revolution. At midnight automobiles carrying rapid fire guns and armed soldiers dashed up and down the Nevski Prospekt, dispersing the crowds.

M. Tscheldtze, president of the soldiers' and workmen's council was in Helsinki, Finland today, endeavoring to adjust the "home rule" fight there.

At This Vacation Season

When so many people are going away from home, the matter of the safety of valuables is one of vital importance.

Neither your home nor your office is the proper place for a will, marriage certificates, deeds, mortgages, bonds, notes, stock certificates, life and fire insurance policies, jewelry, and many other essentially personal valuables. Put them into a safe deposit box in our new modern, fire and burglar proof vault.

The rental charges—less than one cent a day—for private boxes are reasonable, out of all proportion in fact, to the great amount of protection afforded and the peace of mind insured by the use of these facilities.
